General Comment

There is far to much government intrusion into our lives as it is. This is outrageous. Why would the government that is destroying Social Security think that it should "protect" me from myself. Why won't you let us just decide for ourselves how much "risk" we can afford. I maintain over half of my retirement funds in CDs. If I want to invest a small portion of my retirement funds in stocks via a covered PUT and likely improve my standard of living I should be able to make that decision for myself. Thank you
